

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Plywerk; The Eco-Chic Picture Framing Alternative

Portland, Oregon, February, 2011 - Having pictures and artwork on display at home or in the office is a necessity. The right piece can act as inspiration, make you smile, or whisk you away to a relaxing vacation memory. Plywerk provides a simple, clean, and eco-conscious solution for mounting photos, artwork, and any digital image that you want to display. Here are the quick highlights:

- Plywerk are made from eco-consciously harvested bamboo & maple. Both materials have alluring side grains and are always the center of attention in a room filled with traditional frames.
- The clean flush mount will show your image off rather than hide it behind a mat, a pane of glass, and a clunky frame.
- Plywerk panels come in 35+ different sizes. Sizes range from 2½"x3½" to 30"x45". Custom sizes are available as well.
- You can choose from 11 ink-jet and c-type paper finishes including exhibition quality paper finishes like: fine art pearl, silver rag & canvas.
- Plywerk comes ready-to-hang and is handmade in Portland, Oregon, by sandal-wearing, tofu-eating, bike-riders.
- Ordering is easy. Simply upload any digital image to Plywerk.com. Select size, orientation, wood type, print finish and we'll take care of the rest.
- There is not a seventh bullet point but we felt like making you read one more line.

It is time to get those digital photos off your computer and onto the wall where they belong. Plywerk makes great gifts, is perfect for artists, and since it is handmade in the USA, it is something you can feel good about purchasing.
